FOREWORD

Domo.

I am Truncator.

With your polished wazamae, you have done well to defeat the verbal challenges before you thus far. However, those paltry victories barely earn you the right to be called sanshita! They were nothing compared to what awaits on the journey ahead! So take heed of the words on the following pages, for without them, you will surely be saying "sayonara!"

KANJI SEARCHLIGHT

A searchlight that emits an intensely bright light to stop enemies or criminals in their tracks. It can be used as a type of weapon and displays messages such as "under arrest" or "right to silence."

NEGITORO

Minced or ground tuna that is typically eaten on top of rice or in a sushi roll. This term is also used to describe what may become of a victim of a rather gruesome ninja attack.

BANZAI NUKE

A compact, megaton-class nuclear bomb utilized as a weapon by the Soukai Syndicate.

DOTON JITSU

A ninja tunneling technique and attack. Typically, a ninja uses this technique to tunnel into the earth and lie in wait to ambush their opponent.

OTASSHA-DE!

A phrase that is used in place of "goodbye." It usually implies that the speaker will return at some point.

YABARE-KABARE

A phrase to describe someone who acts recklessly in a state of desperation.

GANMO

Fried sushi that has been stuffed with vegetables. Since it is normally served after being cut to pieces, it's often used as a metaphor to describe a ninja that has been blown apart.

KOTODAMA

What is written upon these pages are more than mere words, they have been brought to life on the breath of those who inhabit the world of Ninja Slayer, and as such, hold power that bring them close to the heart and soul of ninja life. Learn these words as if your life depended on it, for they might be your best weapons in this age of wanton violence and depravity.

SALARYMAN

The humble businessman and everyman that is the backbone of Neo-Saitama's workforce. A common sight that permeates all classes in Neo-Saitama's society.

FU-TON

A place where one may rest. In the physical sense, this may be simply interpreted as a bed, but in Neo-Saitama it may also be used metaphorically for a place or time of respite for the mind and soul.

INGA-OHO

Karmic retribution or getting one's just desserts via karma. This phrase may be said when an enemy gets what they deserve or when one is in shock when karma has put them in an unexpectedly bad situation.

DRAGON GENDOSO

As a ninja whose powers have not come from a Ninja Soul possession, he is the last real ninja in Japan. He manages to stop Fujikido's rampage by sealing Naraku. While he tells Fujikido to leave his battle behind, Gendoso still senses a ray of light within the man.

FUJIKIDO KENJI

Gendoso's guidance allows Fujikido to drive off Dominant, the Soukai Syndicate assassin, and choose to live as Ninja Slayer, a slayer of ninja. He learns that the Soukai Syndicate is targeting the Dragon Dojo and moves to save Gendoso, but then...

YUKANO

Gendoso's granddaughter who now trains at the Dragon Dojo. Having witnessed one of Fujikido's rampages, she now fears his sinister karate.

SIX GATES OF SOUKAIYA

A team of elite ninja led by Laomoto Khan, ringleader of the Soukai Syndicate. Their karate skills are so great that it would be unthinkable to even consider comparing them to the wazamae of a lesser, sanshita ninja.

THE STORY THUS FAR

Fujikido chooses his path—to once again become Ninja Slayer of his own volition—and defeats Dominant, a powerful foe. But one day, while on his continued mission of revenge on the Soukai Ninja, he comes upon a piece of information—a plan to burn down the Dragon Dojo! Fujikido assaults the Six Gates of Soukaiya in order to repay Gendoso, the man who saved his soul, and while he takes one of Huge Shuriken's eyes, he is defeated by Hellkite's ambush. Earthquake has now taken Yukano hostage as he approaches Gendoso. In its hour of greatest need, someone appears at the Dojo—but who could it be?!

GUNTURREY'S SHIPING FORM

Get out there and try it for yourself. Applying and testing are some of the best ways to learn. If you're not sure, ask a friend or a colleague for help. The more you practice, the more you'll learn. And the more you learn, the more you'll be able to do. So get out there and try it for yourself. You'll be glad you did.

CYBERNETIC CENTIPEDE FORM

He actually looks a lot more like a centipede when you're into him. His centipede legs are what normally look like he does in a deployed form.

AFTERWORD

So, how have all of you been doing in this new, Pokemon GO-crazed world we now live in? This is Koutarou Sekine. I generally spend all day cooped up in my room drawing, which means I don't have the slightest idea of how the world is reacting to this Pokemon stuff. Personally, though, Diaclone Robot madness has taken my own world by storm. They're using their hand-as-diamonds friendship with me to snatch every last bill from my wallet like some sort of money-sucking cyclone. They're just so cool...! Anyway, I really want to eat eel right now (I have a feeling I drew an eel on a chopping board while thinking the exact same thing this time last year).

So, it looks like this volume was 90% Yukano. It was so packed full of her that it'd be fair to say she was the volume's main character. You do have to appreciate a girl who looks good with a smug expression. Most of the female background characters in this manga have subdued, Japanese-looking faces. Yukano is beautiful, but in a more refined and gallant way that might require more of an expert's eye to appreciate, so I'd like her to come across as cute so long as she's a main character.

See you next time in volume 5.

TRANSLATION NOTES

Pigmon, page 196

One of several well-known kaiju from what is arguably the most well-known tokusatsu series, Ultraman. Pigmon looks like a piece of red coral, or a rocky hedgehog with bone-like appendages and hands that are placed on its body much like a T-rex's. It is typically portrayed in the Ultraman series as friendly.

Mukku, page 196

Mukku is the companion character to Gachapin, a character on the Japanese children's television show called Hirake! Ponkikki. Mukku is a red-haired, juvenile yeti. According to urban legend, the pair of Gachapin and Mukku were modeled after Paul McCartney and John Lennon, but there is no evidence that this is in any way true and the characters' creator has publicly denied this.

Diaclone Reboot, page 203

Diaclone was a series of transforming robot toys from Takara Toys (now known as Takara Tomy after merging with the Tomy toy company in 2006) that was in production from 1980-1985. Recently, the series was revived as Diaclone Reboot and appears to be aimed at adults and those who were children when the original Diaclone was released.
